I'm actually still at Niagara Falls Boulevard site. We've had a few hiccups lately (R2 had a big response which tied up their contractors, I've had State issues with releasing clean concrete... it got ugly, Chris Jamines is coming on board as an alternative OSC with lots of questions, MARSSIM/final status surveys for indoor will be performed this week) but things seem to be mellowing out a little. I really hate leaving the site a couple days early for a safety audit that I think I can do over the phone. I just don't like leaving the site when I know technical decisions will need to be made. I asked Ray if he could stand in for me and he doesn't think it will be a problem at all. I just got excited when I heard you were coming into town. I would definitely feel more comfortable if you were there but I think between Ray, Joe, and myself (on the phone), we should be A-Okay.

Hello Lyndsey, right now don't get in til after 6pm. If I can get out from here earlier I will, but not sure. I just thought I'd stop in to say hello. I could try to make for audit...if you think it makes sense. I know you can handle. Dee
